2. The first point for consideration in this connection is as to whether the post of the Treasury Officer, Civil Station Treasury should be included in the Cadre of the Assistant Comptrollers of this department. Except the post of the Treasury Officer, State Huzur Treasury, which is under the direct control of the Comptroller; the posts of Treasury Officers of the other District Treasuries are not occupied by Assistant Comptrollers of this Department. The Deputy Commissioners are the administrative Heads of the Districts and the District Treasuries function under their control; Consequently, the posts of District Treasury Officers are in the cadre of Asst.Commissioners. The Civil Station Treasury is functioning under the control of the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore (Urban) and therefore, in the normal course, the post of the Treasury Officer, Civil Station Treasury, should be included in the Cadre of Asst.Commissioners, by raising its strength by one. However, the Civil Station Treasury is not in the same position as the other District Treasuries, in as much as a considerable volume of the transactions of the Central Government takes place there and accounts have to be rendered to the Accountant General, Madras. In these special circumstances, it is desirable that this post should be occupied by an Assistant Comptroller of the Audit Department - preferably by one who has undergone training in the Accountant General's Office. In this view, the post of the Treasury Officer, Civil Station Treasury may be regarded as an addition to the permanent cadre of Assistant Comptrollers of the Audit Department.

8) 3. As regards the question of retrenching a post in consequence of the above, I may state that the post of the Treasury Officer, Civil Station Treasury has been in existence for decades and is a wholetime job. An Assistant Comptroller who holds that charge cannot be entrusted with any other work of this department. There can, therefore, be no question of retrenching a post on this account.

9) 4. As Sri. Arunachalam has since been retransferred to the Government of India, there is no need to consider at present the question of his ranking among the Asst.Comptrollers of my Department.
